1. Unusually large coal supplies were piled at the railroad stations of Subcetate, Calan and the junction of Simeria prior to 18 July 1950. *

- * [REDACTED] Comment. The railroad stations are along the single-track railroad line Craiova-Filiassi-Simeria-Arad and Simeria-Timisoara. After a 30-kilometer section between Rumbesti and Livazeni was restored in the fall of 1948, this line became an important connection in Western Rumania for Soviet and Rumanian needs. The Simeria railroad station also belongs to the important east-west single-track Brasov-Sibiu-Arad line. The increased coal reserves indicate a possible traffic increase in the area.
